GIVEN BY VIENNA IN ANCONA NOTE

The text of the Austrian reply to the American note in the Ancons case-given out at Vienna last night-is, in its essential points, substantially the same as the sections quoted in Reuter dispatches from Vienna or Thursday. It announces that the submarine commander has been punished, offers indemnity for the American lives lost, pledges the safety of lives at sea and expresses a desire for heartier relations with the United States.

The pledge to secure lives aboard ships which are about to be

"The Imperial and Royal Government can substantially concur in the principle expressed in the very esteemed note, that private ships, in so far as they do not flee or offer resistance, may not be destroyed without the persons aboard being brought into safety."

The submarine commander was punished, Vienna states, because "he had omitted to take adequately into consideration the panic that . and the spirit of the had broken out among the passengers regulation that Imperial and Royal marine officers shall fail in giving help to nobody in need, not even to an enemy."
